In his new story, more a novella than a novel, Alex Garland, author of "The Beach", sends his readers on an odyssey through the depths of the unconscious (but still conscious) human mind. Protagonist Carl seemingly awakes from a coma after being knocked down only to find that he hasn't actually woken up but still lingers in a dream life. This dream life resembles waking life in a lot of details but has its oddities that set it apart sharply from the real world. In this world of his mind ...

Alex Garland (the 'mastermind' behind the novel The Beach, as well as the films 28 Days Later and Sunshine) presents a straightforward story: a man finds himself trapped in a dreamworld after being put in a coma, and struggles to regain his memory in order to wake up.

The Coma: Alex Garland, Nicholas Garland: 9781594480850:...

05.07.2005 · Coma by Alex Garland is a quirky journey into a dreamlike reality. It is a mystery that never quite unravels itself. The story unwinds with a gripping feeling of reality all its own and at the end you find yourself wondering if it just a dream, or something else. Garland does an exception job of capturing the jerky, suddenly awake, feeling throughout the story. It all seems to take place in those few seconds when the mind is between asleep and awake and grasping for that place ...
